Thank You, but stop sending relief materials: DC

Mysuru, Aug.20 (MTY&NNN)- Even as relief materials continued to pour into the donation collection centre set up in Town Hall, on the fourth day, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, who visited the spot this morning, ordered to stop receiving any more relief items.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, he said that there is enough stock for more than one-and-a-half months and instead of giving to the flood-affected victims of Kodagu the same can be diverted to the poor patients in K.R. Hospital and Cheluvamba Hospital.

The Town Hall is stocked with nearly a lorry-load of biscuits, bread, bun, groceries, bed sheets, sweaters, socks, gloves, blankets, soaps, toothbrushes, toothpaste and other items.

According to Abhiram Sankar, even the DC of Kodagu has directed the administration not to collect any more relief materials.

Meanwhile, there are complaints pouring in of misuse of relief funds being collected by various organisations and agencies in the name of the affected victims.

The DC said that even this fund collection drive should stop and if anyone wants to donate money they may do so by directly sending it to the Chief Minister's Relief Fund.

However, the District Health Office Pharmacists are sorting out the medicines supplied and based on the requirement will pack and send them to Kodagu relief centres, said Abhiram Sankar.

Meanwhile, Kodagu DC has requested for certain items which donors can send directly to DC's office in Madikeri.

Mysuru DC Abhiram G. Sankar inspecting relief materials at the Town Hall in city and segregating them so as to send only what is required at the Relief Camps in Kodagu.

Tourist ban in Kodagu till Aug. 31

Madikeri, Aug. 20- With Kodagu reeling under rain havoc, and rescue-cum-relief operations going on in full swing, the Deputy Commissioner has banned entry and stay of tourists in Kodagu till Aug. 31.

In a circular issued on Sunday, DC P.I. Sreevidya has prohibited tourists from staying in hotels, resorts, home stays, guest houses and other private lodges and boarding homes, till the end of this month.

A copy of the circular has been forwarded to Kodagu District Hotel and Resort Owners Association and Kodagu District Home Stays Association.

Relief Camps request not to send irrelevant materials

Madikeri, Aug. 20- Residents, voluntary groups and various organisations in Mysuru and surrounding places have been showing solidarity with the people of Kodagu district by making generous donations of relief materials. Unfortunately, the overwhelming response and irrelevant items have led to hindrance in rescue work.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, some of the people managing Relief Centres in Suntikoppa, Somwarpet and Madapur urged the generous and well-intentioned people to stop sending relief materials for the time being as they do not have enough space to store them and volunteers are being forced to become porters to unload the trucks instead of going out to rescue people.

They also said many of the items they received such atta, biscuits, bread, bun, etc., are not required.

What they need

As many donations are not used much at Relief Camps, the Kodagu Deputy Commissioner has given a list of items that are required at the Relief Camps. Below is a list of items requested by the Kodagu DC. They can be delivered at the DC's Office in Madikeri but please check for the items with the DC Office before sending them.

• Plastic buckets and mugs • Rain coats • Warm clothing and regular clothes • Slippers, gumboots, gloves and masks • Sanitary Napkins and Diapers • Plastic mats • Umbrella • Torch lights • Mops, Sanitisers and Dettol • Phenyl cleaning liquids, bleaching powder and such items • Soaps, Shampoo and tooth paste and brush, combs • Kitchen Utensils • Candles and match boxes • Bathing Towels • Bedsheets and pillows • Lungis and Nighties • Antiseptic Lotion and anti-fungal powder • Mosquito repellents / odomos • Cooking oil • Inner Garments • Luggage Bags.

Grin and bear it

The expression grin and bear it is attributed to a Hungarian pianist George Lichtenstein (1823-1893). The message in the expression is loud and clear: "You accept a different or unpleasant situation without complaining because you know there is nothing you can do to make things better" (in italics for emphasis). Readers of dailies, including this one, cannot miss reports of uncivil acts of fellow Indians with profiles in a wide range beyond one's imagination. The acts of utter irresponsibility barring a few occasions, by functionaries in civic bodies such as Mysuru City Corporation by not responding to complaints by citizens relating to plethora of woes such as overflowing garbage bins emanating stench, clogged drains with sewage entering roadsides, roads not fit for even walking on them, street lights not functioning leaving open living spaces in pitch dark after sunset, not clearing building construction debris discarded by residents in residential areas, not taking measures to rid the city of pig menace and so on are being taken by Mysureans in their strides, whether they grin or not and bear it helplessly.

India's commerce in selling crops and perishables to consumers directly by the farming fraternity has been figuring in debates and articles in dailies even as the menace of middlemen and commission agents is the order of the day. The manufacturing industry sector, despite the system of branding the products and sales through authorised dealers, too are bearing the brunt of unscrupulous elements busy counterfeiting the products and upsetting the apple cart of the various enterprises in a world of parallel economy.

Pondering over the current scenario in the land where one is never sure of the genuineness of any consumer product, including even life-saving medicines such as antibiotics with well-known brands, helplessness of people buying their needs in retail stores and not in outlets of authorised dealers merits attention. Mysuru is in august company of thousands of towns and cities across the country hosting retail trading dominated by a well-marked section of society. These traders, who are a law unto themselves, are having a field day with their clandestine methods in selling faked products of virtually every brand of manufactured consumer goods, including durables such as kitchen equipment, electronic goods and others, totally valued at an estimated 75 billion (7,500 crore) rupees produced annually.

The retail traders who speak the tongue of any region where they are carrying on their seemingly fair trading practices have given an honourable name to counterfeiting, faking, imitating by fraudulent means, namely 'duplicate'. The catch in their unbounded success in business is that they offer the faked goods at irresistible discounts which the consumers obligingly accept. They are happy to grin and bear it.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

IN SEARCH OF PATRIOTISM: Patriotism has moved from Cinema Halls to Offices of public sector companies. A leading infrastructure company recently initiated the practice of playing the National Anthem every morning in its office premises. The seven-floor building resonates with the National Anthem at 10 am sharp every day. Every employee is supposed to give up whatever they are doing and stand up in respect. Another PSU is mulling doing something similar. Interestingly, in January this year the Supreme Court made playing of the National Anthem in Cinema Halls before screening of movies optional.

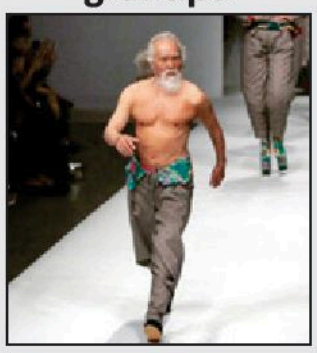
81-year-old is China's hottest grandpa

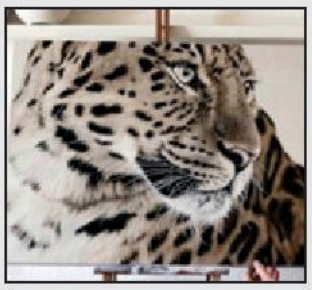


Beijing: Photo shoots, parading bare-chested on fashion runways and brushing shoulders with Chinese superstars 81-year-old Wang Deshun is "China's hottest grandpa" and the man is praised for changing the country's traditional view of old age.

Wang Deshun's life changed two years ago, when he got the chance to walk on the runway at the China Fashion Week in Beijing. With his chiseled physique, hipster beard, long silver hair and youthful attitude, the 81-year-old made quite an impression, and things changed after that.

Wang Deshun became the star of inspirational videos circulating online, continued modelling, appeared on numerous TV shows and starred in several Chinese movies and TV series. Instead of quickly fizzling out, Wang managed to remain relevant, and is now a mainstream star both in China and abroad.

Artist creates realistic wildlife portraits



Berlin: Franziska Treptow, a photographer has every detail, from the tiny hairs of the animal's fur to the reflection in its eyes. The portraits are so perfect that it's almost impossible to believe that the young German artist paints or draws every one of her artworks.

Franziska's ideas start as sketches and photos of wildlife. Using her skills in digital photo manipulation technology (Photoshop), she creates a digital model for her works, which helps her become aware of the composition and accentuation of light and shadow. She then sketches that model on paper or canvas and uses pencils or paints to create the ultra-realistic animal portraits exclusively by hand. The whole process, can take anywhere from a few hours to more than a month, depending on the complexity of the project. The end result is always breathtaking.

VOICE OF THE READER

Streets crying for Lights

Sir,

In continuation with the letters on need of street lights, of course Mysuru city is lacking with proper street lights. The roads are filled with lights of the shops decorated with hi-voltage LED lights, particularly on DD Urs Road, Shivarampet etc. Other than these roads, all other roads are lacking street lights.

As rightly said in the previous article, the vehicle users are forced to use high beam lights which again affects the opposite vehicle driver/rider that he goes blind for a few seconds which may lead to accidents. In these roads public will be crossing the roads across where the motorists will not be visible unless they reach nearer.

Are not the Mayor, Corporators or Officers in the MCC travelling on the roads during evening time after the lights are on? Are they not in a position to take a decision on this problem?

I regularly travel from Railway Station to Columbia Asia Hospital Junction. Till then all along the way from RMC Circle, Bamboo Bazar, Highway Circle (Nelson Mandela Road), Millennium Circle and roads leading to JSS Dental College and parallel roads do not have proper street lights and as a result all the four-wheelers, two-wheelers, autos, KSRTC buses use high beam lights thus blinding other motorists.

The high mast lights installed are also not functioning properly since a long time.

I as a citizen of Mysuru city and also as a Traffic Warden feel that violations of traffic rules cannot be avoided unless the roads are properly lit.

On behalf of the motorists, I request the MCC Officers, Corporators, the Mayor and the Commissioner to act on this problem immediately.

"Vardhamana Prashasti" to Dr. C. Naganna

Dr. Naganna

Mysuru, Aug.20- Dr. C. Naganna, writer and academician, has been selected for Vardhamana Prashasti-2017 for his work "Kallalla Kamanabillu" (Not a Rock but a Rainbow), a collection of critical essays.

The award, instituted under the aegis of 'Mudubidare Vardhamana Prashasti Peetha', will be conferred on him during the 'Dasara Sahityotsava' in October 2018 at Mudubidare. The award carries a cash prize of Rs.25,000 and a plaque.

'Vardhamana Udayonmukha Sahitya Prashasti' is shared by Prof. T. Yallappa (for his collection of poems 'Chitte mattu Jeevayana') and Abdul Hameed Pakkaladka (for his collection of short stories 'Bhrame'). They will share Rs.15,000 between them.

Prof. Naganna has penned some 30 books, both in Kannada and English so far, which majorly include criticism and translation. His Kannada translation of Chinua Achebe's "Things Fall Apart" as "Bhanga" is very well received. After quite a long stint at the University Evening College and Maharaja's College, Mysore, as teacher of English, Dr. Naganna served as Professor of Comparative Literature and Translation Studies at the University of Mysore before his retirement recently.

As Director of Prasaranga for nearly 6 years he was instrumental in the publication of many works of significance.

'It will take months for repair and reconstruction of roads in Kodagu'

One of the roads in Kodagu that is damaged due to rain havoc.

Madikeri, Aug.20- Stating that it will take months to repair and reconstruct damaged roads across Kodagu district, PWD Minister H.D. Revanna has said that it may need at least 30 days to re-open Madikeri-Mangaluru road for Light Motor Vehicles (LMVs) traffic, while it may take more than six months for the road to be made ready for movement of Heavy Motor Vehicles (HMVs).

Noting that 37 km stretch of Madikeri-Mangaluru Highway from Talattamane to Sampaje has totally collapsed due to heavy rains and landslides, Revanna said that the works can be launched only after the rain stops completely.

Pointing out that motorists can take Madikeri-Bhagamandala-Karike-Mangaluru route, the Minister also clarified that it may take months for the KSRTC to resume operations on Madikeri-Mangaluru route.

Continuing, he said that Madikeri-Somwarpet Road too is completely damaged by rain havoc and added that it would take at least two months to repair this road.

Maintaining that a total of 274 km length of PWD roads have been destroyed and 40 bridges were extensively damaged by heavy rains and landslides in Kodagu district, the Minister put the losses at Rs.290 crore.

Detailing the despatch of relief materials from Hassan Milk Union to flood-affected Kodagu, Revanna reiterated that road repair and reconstruction works can be taken up only after the rains stop completely.

Yeddyurappa visits flood-hit areas in Kushalnagar, Suntikoppa

Seeks permanent rehabilitation for flood victims

Kushalnagar, Aug.20 (US)- Opposition leader B.S. Yeddyurappa visited the flood affected areas in town yesterday and took stock of the gravity of calamity.

Yeddyurappa visited Sai Layout and Kuvempu Extension accompanied by MPs Pratap Simha and Shobha Karandlaje and other officials. He gathered information on the extent of damage due to floods, relief measures undertaken and facility at relief centres. He also visited the relief centres opened at Kodava Samaja and Government Model Primary School and obtained primary informations on the facilities provided there.

Union Minister D.V. Sadananda Gowda also visited the two aforementioned relief centres last evening. The victims of flood housed at the centres aired their grievances before the Minister.

In Madikeri

"Though Kodagu has been devastated by rain and flood, the State Government is rather slow in implementing relief measures," alleged Yeddyurappa.

After visiting flood-hit areas in Kushalanagar and Suntikoppa, Yeddyurappa arrived in Madikeri and obtained information on flood havoc and relief measures taken by the Deputy Commissioner. Speaking on the occasion, Yeddyurappa opined that once the rains recede completely, the Government should take up permanent relief measures to rehabilitate the flood victims. He asked the DC to identify places to permanently rehabilitate the flood victims. He thanked the people for rushing food items to the flood victims but advised them not to send too much of food items as they would perish on long standing.

Yeddyurappa further said that farmers in Kodagu district have experienced heavy damage to cash crops like cardamom and coffee. He opined that a detailed report on damages caused should be prepared and sent to the Government to seek due compensation. He also suggested District Administration to take measures to thwart attempts of theft by miscreants cashing in on the helpless situation of the flood victims.

MP Shobha Karandlaje added that the Government has not taken the flood havoc in Kodagu on a priority basis as the Chief Minister had paid only a casual visit to Kodagu. She suggested the District Administration to deploy enough cooks at relief centres and also to ensure cleanliness of premises at relief centres.

Youth washed away in Kapila River

Siddaraju

Nanjangud, Aug.20 (KS)- A 23-year-old youth, who reportedly went for a swim in Kapila River, has been washed away by the strong current near Devaraj Urs Bridge yesterday.

The deceased youth has been identified as Siddaraju, son of late Nanjappa, a resident of Kanakanagar Layout in Nanjangud and was an employee of a factory.

Yesterday being a holiday, Siddaraju, who had taken his sister for a check-up to a hospital, dropped her home and left the house saying that he was going to see the floods and came near the bridge.

When he came to the bridge, he saw two boys jumping from the bridge and swimming in the river.

Siddaraju, then jumped into the river for a swim. While the two boys swam and reached the banks, Siddaraju was swept away due to strong water force.

Following a complaint from Siddaraju's mother Anasuya, Sub-Inspector Puneeth, who has registered a case, has launched a search operation to fish out the body.

Cracks in T. Narasipur bridge: NHAI clarifies on rumours

Mysuru, Aug. 20 (RKB&DM)- Even as the social media is rife with rumours that the bridge across Kapila river in T. Narasipur has developed cracks, the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has clarified that the rumours are baseless.

NHAI Executive Engineer K.P. Mahadevaiah, in a press release has dismissed the rumours as far from truth and has appealed the public not to believe such false news.

Pointing out that NHAI's top engineers from Bengaluru had inspected the bridge on Aug. 12, he said that during inspection it was found that the strip seal expansion joint had shrunk a little in the third pillar of the bridge and the engineers concerned have been asked to rectify the same at the earliest.

However, there is no problem for traffic movement on the bridge and there is no cause of concern. As such the people need not worry about the safety of the bridge, Mahadevaiah said, adding that people must not believe in such false news and rumours.

Kodagu floods: Prez, PM call CM

New Delhi, Aug.20 - Prime Minister Narendra Modi called Karnataka Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy yesterday to enquire about the people and the conditions in the flood-affected Kodagu district.

In a tweet, Modi said he spoke to Kumaraswamy regarding the flood situation in parts of the State. "Extended all possible support in the rescue and relief operations. I pray for the safety and well-being of those in the flood affected areas," hetweeted.

While Kumaraswamy was addressing a media conference in Madikeri yesterday, Modi had called him. He left the conference and told the PM that nearly 3,500 people had been rescued. The relief operations were in full swing and the Army, National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) and other Armed Forces were involved in the operations.

The district administration was managing the rescue and relief work, along with the Army, NDRF and other agencies, and have rescued many people so far, Kumaraswamy told President Ram Nath Kovind, who also called up to inquire about the situation in the State, according to a statement from the CMO.

Govt. School in City runs from a Railway Workshop

With Railways taking all pains to run school, Dept. of Public Instruction chooses to be indifferent

By M.B. Pavan Murthy

Mysuru, Aug.20- Thanks to the efforts of Good Samaritans, hundreds of poor children are getting education in this Government School that does not have a building of its own. The Railway Workshop located on Manandawadi Road at Ashokapuram plays host to the decades-old Government School.

The Railway Department, apart from letting a building, has provided necessary infrastructure. As a result, the Higher Primary School and High School classes are being held in separate buildings. Even as the Government School does not have an own building, the Department of Public Instruction is not making any serious efforts to have one.

While the High School section is functioning at the canteen section of the Railway Workshop, the Higher Primary School is being run from a structure that appears like a house. The High School section, which started functioning from 1996, is still functioning from the canteen portion of the workshop. With the Railways taking all pains to run the school, the Department of Public Instruction has chosen to remain silent. Moreover, the Railways Department, which has been so philanthropic in facilitating the function of the school, has not demanded any rent for its building that has been let out.

When the school got Government sanction two decades ago, the then Head Master of the school and the Railways Department had entered into an oral understanding on running the school from the workshop canteen. The Railway canteen building, constructed decades ago, has become dilapidated over the passage of time and hence needs immediate renovation or repairs.

The school comes under the jurisdiction of South BEO Office and this is the only school out of the nine schools that does not have an own building. Also, this school has the highest number of students among all the schools coming South Zone BEO. The school which caters to the educational needs of poor children from Srirampura, Mahadevapura, Nachanahallipalya, Devaraj Urs Colony and surrounding areas, has recorded excellent results in SSLC this year.

Thanks to the efforts of the School Head Mistress S. Padmamba and other faculty, the school has been doing exceptionally well, despite not having own building. Padmamba says that her subordinates have been putting their best efforts to achieve good academic results.

Pointing out that all efforts are being made for full utilisation of Government facilities, she says that thanks to the courtesy of Railways, the school has been running without any hitches or hurdles. However, the only shortcoming is that the school does not have a playground. Continuing, the Head Mistress said that there were a total of 127 children in three classes, out of whom 79 are boys and 48 girls.

Claiming that the school has been maintaining a good academic record over the years, Padmamba said that 25 out of 43 students who had appeared for SSLC in 2017-18, have passed out, which is a good record for any Government School, considering the fact that many Government schools elsewhere have recorded zero percentage pass.

Poor students let down

Perhaps this is the only school which was started in pre-independence days, that does not have its own building. While the school is functioning from Railway Workshop buildings, the Railways has been graceful enough to provide civic amenities such as toilets and drinking water. But the lackadaisical attitude of the Public Instruction Department in providing the much-needed infrastructure has let down the poor students studying in the school. At present, the High School has four teachers. Higher Primary School Head Mistress Vijaya Shanbhag says that the school began functioning during the days of the Maharaja and catered to the needs of children of the Railway Workshop employees. The school is running classes from first to seventh standard and has a total of 60 students enrolled, she added.

Will Education Minister look into this neglected school?

Periyapatna, Aug. 20 (HDR&KS) - Will Karnataka Primary and Secondary Education Minister N. Mahesh look into this school which has not been provided with original land documents since 42 years? The school is lying in a state of neglect and the parents of the children studying in the school have requested urgent intervention by the Minister.

The school is located at Hunasawadi village in Periyapatna Taluk and despite school authorities writing letters to the Education Department's regional, district and taluk offices, the problem still exist. The school has classes from 5th standard to 10th standard with more than 172 students. More than 65 to 70 students pass out after completing SSLC every year.

The school that provides education to children from eight to ten villages began functioning in 1976 and since then many head masters have tried to get the original land documents but in vain. The only document the school has is the blue print mentioning about five-acre plot of the school. Though the authorities can conduct a survey using the blue print and prepare a new document, they are not taking initiatives in this regard, said students and parents.

According to Head Master M.J. Narasegowda, the school will complete 50 years in a few years. "We need to conserve the school. Our school does not even have a compound and cattle roam freely here, dirtying the premises," he said.

There is also a need for classrooms and furniture. There is a borewell with a hand pump to meet the drinking water requirement of students. But the borewell can provide only two to three buckets of water and that too polluted. In 1999, the Land Army constructed two classrooms with cement roofing which is now dilapidated, making it impossible to conduct classes in these two classrooms.

"We brought this issue to the notice of Periyapatna Block Education Officer. He has instructed us to demolish the classrooms. We are left with no other option but to conduct classes in the existing classrooms," the Head Master said.

The school requires a total of eight rooms including three smart classrooms, one laboratory, one library, one room to store sports equipment, one head master's room and one computer room among others, Narasegowda said and added that though a letter in this regard was written to Zilla Panchayat CEO, nothing has been taken forward.

The students and parents have now urged Primary and Secondary Education Minister N. Mahesh to visit the school at the earliest and initiate steps to develop the grossly neglected school.

KSRTC resumes service to Madikeri on trial basis

Mysuru, Aug.20 (MTY&US)- KSRTC has resumed bus service on a trial basis from Mysuru to Madikeri on Saturday. The service had been stopped since Thursday following landslides owing to heavy rain around Suntikoppa town.

Speaking to Star of Mysore KSRTC Divisional Controller (Rural) Vasu said that about 120 buses used to ply from Mysuru towards Kodagu daily.

He further said that, the Mysuru KSRTC officials were in touch with their counterparts in Madikeri and Kodagu District Administration, to assess the flood situation and resumption of bus service to parts of Kodagu. He added that the frequency of service to Madikeri would be gradually increased in phases after assessing the situation.

Identify land to build houses for victims in Kodagu: HDK

Directs officials to restore damaged Madikeri-Mangaluru, Madikeri-Somwarpet roads

Chief Minister H.D.Kumaraswamy handing over a cheque to the family member of a victim who died in house collapse in Madikeri.

Madikeri, Aug.20- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy has directed the District Administration to identity land to construct houses for flood-affected victims on a priority basis.

He was chairing a meeting on natural disaster relief operations at the Deputy Commissioner's office here yesterday and said that the officials should come forward to identify land along with providing them jobs under Employment Guarantee Scheme.

Every victim must get facilities provided by the government that they are entitled to. At no cost should there be complaints that the government is not responding to the problems of the people. The officials should understand their duties and responsibilities and work, he said.

It is the duty of the government to protect the people who have been affected. The government is ready to release any amount of money but the officials should respond to the woes of the people, he said making it clear that he will not tolerate any lacuna on the part of the officials.

Madikeri-Mangaluru road damaged

The Madikeri-Mangaluru Road has collapsed and likewise the Madikeri-Somwarpet Road has also collapsed. The CM has asked the District Administration to immediately restore the road connection by commencing the repair work.

The Government is ready to offer all assistance to the damages caused in Kodagu. However, there are complaints that there are no toilet facilities in the Relief Centres. Efforts are on to get 120 mobile toilets from Bengaluru and also 300 staff from Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike are also being deployed. Hence, the first priority is for cleanliness, said Kumaraswamy.

There is a lot of water-logging in many areas in Kushalnagar and it has to be cleared. Care should also be taken to see that diseases do not spread. Quality food should be provided at Relief Centres, he said.

If the officials do not work properly they will be suspended, he warned. More officers from other districts are being deployed for relief works and more staff are being deployed for the Coffee Board to survey crop loss, he said.

A lot of Relief Centres have been opened but a few people are reluctant to go to them. Also, a lot of voluntary organisations have come forward to provide food and other facilities to the victims, said Kumaraswamy.

Deputy Commissioner P.I. Sreevidya said that nearly 50,000 people in the district are directly affected by heavy rain, out which nearly 4,000 in different parts of the district have lost touch with the outside world. Heavy rain has damaged houses or washed them away and seven people have died, she informed. Nearly 3,120 people have been rescued in the district so far and 41 Relief Centres have been opened where all the facilities including food, drinking water, medical facilities, beds and blankets have been provided, said the DC.

District Minister S.R. Mahesh, Minor Industries Minister Srinivas, District Secretary G. Kalpana, Chamarajanagar DC B.B. Cauvery, Zilla Panchayat CEO Prashanth Kumar Mishra, Police officials M.N. Reddy, Sunil Agarwal and others were present.

Former PM Deve Gowda to donate two months' salary for flood relief

Mysuru/Bengaluru, Aug. 20 (KS)- Former Prime Minister and JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda has announced that he will be donating his two months salary for flood relief funds in Kodagu and Kerala.

Announcing this at a private function in city yesterday, the former PM said that he had never seen such a heavy rainfall in the last 60 years and added that lakhs of people have been displaced in Kerala due to floods.

Stating that his one month salary would be donated to Kodagu and another month's salary to Kerala, Deve Gowda has appealed the people to extend their support to the flood victims.

Congress MLAs and MPs to donate one month's salary: Meanwhile, KPCC President Dinesh Gundu Rao yesterday announced that the Congress MLAs and MPs would be donating their month's salary for flood relief works.

The decision to donate salaries was taken at a meeting of Congress General Secretaries, Party In-charge of States, Legislature Party leaders and State Unit Chiefs, which was presided over by AICC President Rahul Gandhi.

Insisting that Prime Minister Modi should 'not play politics' in such matters, Rahul Gandhi also mentioned that the Kerala situation should be declared a "national calamity" with immediate effect.

DFRL, CFTRI send food packets to Kodagu, Kerala

Mysuru, Aug.20 - Mysuru-based Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI) and Defence Food Research Laboratory (DFRL) are despatching ready-to-eat meals and other food items that have long shelf-life to rain-ravaged Kodagu and Kerala.

DFRL has sent three tonnes of food items for flood-affected people and the loads were despatched on Saturday. The consignment was airlifted from the Mysuru Airport at Mandakalli.

The consignment consisted of ready-to-eat tomato bath and upma and instant upma. Instant upma packs of 10 kg each was meant for use in camps. It has to be mixed with hot water for consumption.

The government-owned enterprise will send its second consignment by an IAF aircraft. "We are planning to airdrop the food packets over the worst-affected regions," said an official.

CFTRI is preparing ready-to-eat food items including upma, imli poha and chapathis. It is also preparing high-protein biscuits and rusks. While 5,000 meals will be dispatched to Kodagu by trucks, the other 5,000 meals will be sent to Kerala.

Eighty Pourakarmikas from city leave for Kodagu

MCC Pourakarmikas seen at work in one of the Relief Centres in Kodagu this morning.

Mysuru, Aug. 20 (YDS&DM)- Even as Kodagu continues to reel under the havoc caused by rain fury, over 80 Pourakarmikas (civic workers) from the city left for Kodagu yesterday to be part of rescue and relief operations going on there.

MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha said that as Kodagu has been devastated by floods and landslides and life across the district thrown out of gear, the Mysuru District Administration taking note of the plight of the people there, decided to send 80 Pourakarmikas for assisting rescue teams in evacuating roads, ensuring proper sanitation etc.

Pointing out that 173 persons have contributed to MCC's donation drive in the form of relief materials, Jagadeesha said that two loads of food articles, clothes, water bottles, vessels and other items of daily use have been despatched to Kodagu for distribution among the victims.

Nanjangud residents despatch 5,000 chapathis

Nanjangud, Aug. 20- Even as generous contributions for flood relief measures in Kodagu continues to pour in from across the State, a group of 30 women from Vidyanagar locality of the temple town have contributed their mite in their own way, by preparing 5,000 chapathis on Sunday, meant for despatch to Relief Centres in Kodagu.

The women led by Sudha Shivakumar and Komala Mahalingaswamy are also planning to send water bottles along with chapathis, it is learnt.

Rescue operations gain momentum in flood-ravaged Kodagu

Army personnel stationed at Kodagu.

Rescue operation in progress.

The vehicle involved in rescue operation at Judopala got stuck in the slush.

Madikeri, Aug. 20 (PS, AG&DM)- Even as rescue and relief operations across the rain-ravaged Kodagu district have gained momentum, with a little let up in incessant rains since last evening, the Army, Navy, Air Force, NDRF teams and other personnel continued rescue operations at Mukkodlu, Devasthur, Galibeedu, Sampaje, Pushpagiri, Madenadu and other surrounding places, for the tenth day today.

With over 4,000 people from these villages still reported missing for the past few days, rescue teams have been finding it extremely difficult to reach the targeted places due to inclement weather and hostile conditions, with the hilly terrains engulfed in mist and rains, making the situation all the more difficult.

As relief materials, both in cash and kind, are pouring in into the District Head Quarters in Madikeri from all parts of the State, the authorities are finding it difficult to despatch them to Relief Camps and Centres due to poor road connectivity, communication network and logistical support.

With relief materials including food articles stocking up, the authorities are increasingly worried over their distribution, as it has become difficult for them to reach out to victims, most of whom are inaccessible.

However, the authorities are taking measures to ensure that food does not go waste due to non-distribution among victims, who are camped at numerous Relief Centres set up by the district administration.

Health care too has taken a hit due to shortage of medical staff and doctors. Although teams of doctors from neighbouring Mysuru, Hassan and Mandya districts have been camping at Madikeri since yesterday, they are finding it extremely difficult to carry out their task in villages and relief camps, due to poor road connectivity coupled with inaccessibility due to landslides and floods.

Meanwhile, an Army team, which had gone to Mukkodlu in Somwarpet Taluk yesterday to rescue about 60 people stranded at Avandi located close to Mukkodlu, is yet to return to its base even after one full day. It is not yet known whether the team has been able to trace the missing villagers, which has been a cause of concern for the district administration.

Even as rehabilitation of thousands of flood-affected people and construction of houses for displaced victims pose a huge challenge for both the State and Central governments, the district administration has put the initial estimate of losses at Rs. 8,500 crores, while it is expected to go up to Rs. 20,000 crore when a survey of total losses is completed.

DC holds meeting in Kushalnagar: With teams briskly carrying out rescue and relief operations, Kodagu Deputy Commissioner P.I. Sreevidya inspected flood-affected areas in and around Kushalnagar town this morning and took stock of the situation amidst brief spells of rain.

She later held a meeting with officials and received inputs on the measures taken for distribution of relief materials and food, prevention of spread of epidemic diseases, health care of victims and such other issues.

ADGP Bhaskar Rao, who had earlier served as Kodagu SP, IAS Officer Vincent D'Souza, who had earlier served as Kodagu DC and other top officials attended the meeting.

In the meantime, over 300 Pourakarmikas attached to BBMP and over 150 Pourakarmikas from MCC began their work by assisting rescue and relief teams in evacuation and cleaning works. MLA Appachu Ranjan has narrow escape: On Sunday, Madikeri MLA Appachu Ranjan had a narrow escape when he had gone along with a team to rescue stranded victims at Mukkodlu village.

Following incessant rains since Saturday night, more landslides took place near Mukkodlu and as Ranjan was approaching the village, another huge landslide occurred just a few metres away. Soon, Fire Services DGP M.N. Reddi and other personnel whisked Ranjan away to a safer zone, it is learnt.

BBMP Pourakarmikas leave for Kodagu with 100 bio toilets

Bengaluru, Aug.20 (RK&KS)- Three hundred Pourakarmikas of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) have left for Kodagu to render help in relief works.

BBMP Additional Commissioner D. Randeep, speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, said that the first batch of 150 Pourakarmikas left Bengaluru last evening and stayed overnight at Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry in Mysuru and left for Kodagu early this morning.

He further said that another batch of 150 Pourakarmikas left Bengaluru this morning and would reach Kodagu in the evening. The Pourakarmikas who left by buses are accompanied by three Health Officers and are carrying safety, cleaning and rescue equipment apart from 100 bio toilets.

Meanwhile, the BBMP had opened its flood relief fund and relief materials collection centre at Dr. Rajkumar Glass House on Devanga Hostel Road in Sampangi Ramanagar and the relief materials collected were being transported to Kodagu.

In the guise of customers...

Rs.15 lakh stolen from Bank at Mandya

Mandya, Aug.20 (NG&DM)- In a reported incident, a group of miscreants, posing as customers, stole Rs.15 lakh cash from SBI Bank at Mandya this morning.

Soon as the SBI Bank (Agricultural Development Branch) at Bamdigowda Layout, opened at about 10 am, a group of miscreants, who are said to be 8 to 10 in number, entered the Bank posing as customers and engaged almost every staff of the Bank into conversation over several Bank transaction issues, with some of them speaking in Hindi and the rest in Kannada.

Even as a member of the group of miscreants engaged the Bank Cashier Geethanjali and also made her come out of the cash counter under some pretext, in a bid to divert her attention, another member crawled into the cash counter and decamped with Rs.15 lakh cash kept in the counter, even as Geethanjali continued to talk with the 'new customer'!

Geethanjali, who returned to the cash counter after ending the conversation, found Rs.15 lakh missing from the counter. But by that time, the 'new customer' whom Geethanjali had spoken to before and all other 'new customers' who had entered the Bank posing as customers, had vanished from the place.

Soon, cashier Geethanjali informed the matter to Bank Manager Sadananda Kamath who immediately lodged a complaint at Mandya West Police Station.

ASP Lavanya, CPI Santosh and other Police personnel visited the Bank and conducted mahazar.

The Police have retrieved footages of CCTV cameras installed in the Bank, which are said to have captured the images of the gang members.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran
Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Inviting Luck

Feng Shui is a centuries-old Chinese art that uses placement of objects to enhance the energy flow within an environment. Feng Shui is a very popular method in determining the arrangement of a home. In other words, it is a design genre all on its own. But this design element is done not only for the visual aesthetics that it can impart to your home but to also activate many benefits, especially the energy it can draw into your home.

There are many different schools, methods and formulas Feng Shui Masters adapt in designing a building and deciding on the various good and bad sectors in a property on the basis of calculations and formulas. Activating good sectors and countering ill-effects of bad sectors is the primary focus of a Feng Shui consultant while analysing a property.

Our prosperity is really a reflection of our thoughts formed by the perceptions of the outer world. Hence harmonising our inner self and our immediate surroundings can open the channels to achieve greater prosperity and abundance in our lives.

Creating a harmonious space and environment that exudes harmony is one of the key dynamics behind this age-old practice. It's no surprise that we would most often be faced with bad energy due to our immediate surrounding and environment around our building. These may give rise to ill-fortune in the form of, relationship, wealth, legal entanglement or illness.

Adapting the basic tenets of Vastu and Feng Shui in terms of locating good piece of property, orienting the home to the best direction, proper placement of rooms, doors and windows, ideal colours, floor and wall décor and positioning water features ensures that the home is an abode for good nurturing energy to the occupants which in turn transforms as prosperity, wealth and health.

In other words, Feng Shui enables you to custom design your "luck" and makes you move towards your aspirations by fine tuning the "Chi" (energy) around you. Classical > Decorating the centre of the home to signify that it is the centre of the house, suspending faceted crystal lights or chandeliers, throwing in a rug or carpet on the floor preferably in shades of warmer colours would activate the energy of the centre grid.

Feng Shui analysis says that energy (Chi) flowing in a building gathers more towards the centre while originating from all the corners of the building, hence the centre sector is akin to the human heart which supports all the other human organs by ticking alive.

Keeping the centre sector clean, free of clutter and well lit would be useful. Decorating the centre of the home to signify that it is the centre of the house, suspending faceted crystal lights or chandeliers, throwing in a rug or carpet on the floor preferably in shades of warmer colours would activate the energy of the centre grid.

• The design and adaptation of Feng Shui should always be done having the people who will be in it in mind as the occupants comfort must be of the highest priority.

• The wall that directly faces the main door is important as it decides the type of energy which comes into the home hence it should always be welcoming and inspiring in décor, enhancing it through colours, decals or decorations would be beneficial.

• Flowers and fruit trees attract birds and butterflies, it promote peace and abundance, hence cultivate your garden and keep the building clutter free.

Discovering Vajpayee's Quiet Pillar of Support Mrs. Kaul

When Atal Bihari Vajpayee's companion Rajkumari Kaur passed away in May 2014, Girish Nikam, who began his journalistic career with Star of Mysore and at that time working with Newstime, Hyderabad, had written an article titled "Mrs. Kaul here, you don't know who I am?" which was published in Rediff.com. We are republishing that article as we thought it would interest our readers as the nation mourns the passing away of the former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee. Today, Girish Nikam is also no more with us as he had an untimely death on Nov.7, 2016 at the age of 58.

Rajkumari Kaul's death over the weekend brings back memories of phone conversations at a time when landline numbers were still in vogue, and Atal Bihari Vajpayee was yet to become Prime Minister.

Rajkumari Kaul

Vajpayee

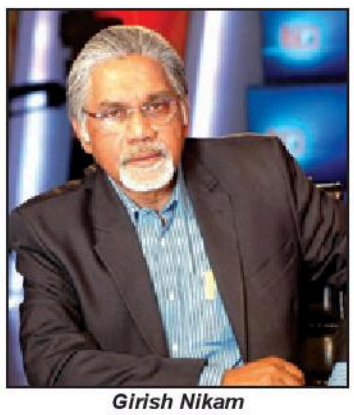
Those were my early days in Delhi as a journalist. Having come after from stints in Mysore, Bangalore and Chennai, the capital was a challenge. And I was assigned the Bharatiya Janata Party beat. Working for a regional group of newspapers (Eenadu and Newstime), which had no editions in the capital, it was challenging to establish political contacts and build on them.

One way of establishing political contact was not to miss any occasion to meet the leaders, interact with them, ask questions (sensible ones) at press conferences, and be noticed.

The other was to be in touch with the leaders on phone to get quotes or crosscheck stories inevitably late in the evenings or even at night. And this had to be done by landline as mobile phones were not available yet. It was on such a process of familiarisation that I stuck a rapport with Vajpayee.

In 1995 Vajpayee was still smarting under the shadow of the towering Advani.

Vajpayee, who was then a resident of 6, Raisina Road, would be available for journalists and visitors in the evening after his nap and tea, quite freely. Or many a times at his office in



Girish Nikam

Parliament, which he had as the Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha. So frequent meetings, many of them unscheduled, had led a special rapport between us.

It was this rapport which would frequently encourage me to call up his residence at all hours in the evening and night, sometimes even after 11 pm.

Once, in that late hour, Vajpayee picked up the phone himself and confirmed some news I was checking on. Only to reprimand me in his usual witty manner the next day when we met, "Nikam saab, aap toh sote nahin ho, lekin hamein toh sone do (Nikam saab, you don't sleep, but allow us to sleep at least)," with a twinkle in his eye and mischief in his voice.

Another time I had to call his residence again, and when I did a female voice answered. The voice was sophisticated and gentle.

When I asked for Mr. Vajpayee, she gently asked me to hold on and he came on the line. This happened again a few days later. The same sophisticated female voice this time introduced herself as "Mrs. Kaul here." I let that pass, and as usual asked for Mr. Vajpayee who came on the line in a while.

This happened a few more times, and the call would be taken by Mrs. Kaul and I would not show any interest except to get Mr. Vajpayee on the line.

One day, when I rang again, the lady picked up, and repeated "Mrs. Kaul here" and as I was about to ask for Mr. Vajpayee, she repeated, "Mrs. Kaul here." To which I replied courteously but without any curiosity, "Yes, ma'am, I know." This I guess was too much for her! she asked gently but curiously and with some amusement "You don't know who I am?"

Being new to Delhi and to the BJP beat and not really up to date with the personal lives of politicians, or the gossip surrounding them, I honestly replied, "No ma'am," with a mixed sense of guilt and anxiety.

"I am Mrs. Kaul, Rajkumari Kaul. Vajpayeeji and I have been friends for a long time, over 40 years. You didn't know?" she asked with a sense of amusement and wonder.

"Oh, I am sorry, ma'am, I didn't know," I mumbled. She laughed and then went on to say how Vajpayee had lived with her and her husband, Professor Kaul, all those years and about her husband who had taught at Delhi University and was now retired. I just kept mumbling through the conversation, and when it ended I apologised for my ignorance and wished her and put the phone down. I had forgotten to ask to talk to Vajpayee!!

Over time as I kept ringing Vajpayee's home, Mrs. Kaul would pick up the phone sometimes and chat pleasantly with a great deal of warmth and even discuss the weather, her health and about her daughter (Namita) and granddaughter, Neha (Neharika). She would ask about my family and if I had my lunch or tea.

Sometimes she would be worried about Neha missing school because of a cold or cough. The chat would always end up with "Girish, you should come and have tea with me some time," and I would mumble, "Sure ma'am, I will come."

As any beat reporter who is always chasing stories, I never managed to find the time to have that cup of tea with Mrs. Kaul. And then Vajpayee became Prime Minister for 13 days in 1996, and the SPG took over. My contacts with Mrs. Kaul ended with that, as she didn't have to pick up the phone anymore. And I moved on to other beats.

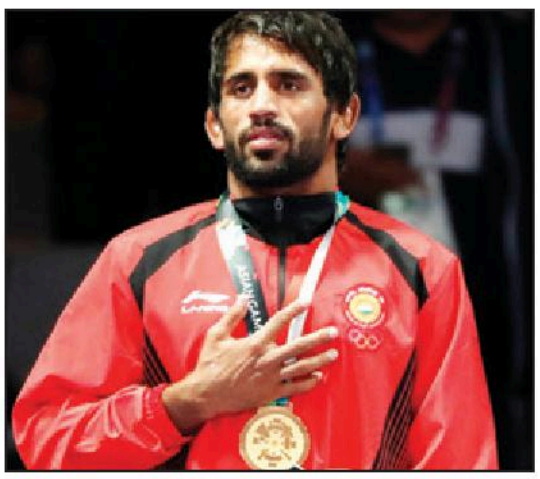
When I read that she was no more, memories came flooding of those numerous conversations with the gentle lady, who was just an affectionate voice for me and not a face I could associate with. And she will now remain just that.

And that cup of tea that I will never be able to have with her.

Asian Games-2018

Wrestler Bajrang Punia gives India first gold

Deepak Kumar bags silver in shooting



Wrestler Bajrang Punia

Shooter Deepak Kumar

Palembang, Aug.20- India begin Day-2 with a shooting medal which is Silver in the 10m Air Rifle Final where Deepak Kumar fought back to clinch his first Asian Games medal.

Under pressure from the start, Kumar finished with a final score of 247.7, behind China's Yang Haoran who shot 249.1, a Games Record, to defend his title.

Apurvi Chandela also qualified for the Air Rifle final, but failed to get a medal as she finished fifth.

Earlier, Srihari Nataraj won the Men's 50m backstroke heats, but is only a reserve for the final as he finished 10th among 38 starters. India's women's team in the badminton team event could not get past Japan and lost the tie 1-3 in the quarter-finals.

Day 1: Wrestler Bajrang Punia snatched the spotlight from fading superstar Sushil Kumar to open India's gold account at the 18th Asian Games after the shooters delivered just a bronze in a low-key start to their campaign on Sunday.

An in-form Bajrang won his maiden Asian Games gold in the 65kg category but a rusty Sushil lost his last chance to add an Asiad yellow metal to his rich collection after losing the qualification bout 3-5 to Bahrain's Adam Batirov in the 74 kg category.

Bajrang gave India the first gold of the Games in Jakarta but the country's first medal came 600 kilometers away in Palembang, where the mixed rifle team of Apurvi Chandela and Ravi Kumar faltered towards the end to settle for bronze.

'Tribal development should also uphold their culture'

Mysuru, Aug.20 (PM&US)- A two-day National Seminar on 'Tribal Development and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR): Issues and prospects' organised jointly by Centre for Inclusive Growth and Development Research Trust, Mysuru, Centre for Social Exclusion and Inclusive Policy (CSEIP), University of Mysore and Basudev Somani College was held at the college premises in Kuvempunagar recently.

About 150 researchers and faculty of various colleges participated in the seminar featuring various technical sessions.

Inaugurating the programme by watering a sapling, Anthropological Survey of India, Kolkata Deputy Director Dr. M. Sasikumar said that India with tribals amounting to 8% of the population tops in the world. He expressed happiness in government funding tribal development projects but opined that the funding committee comprised only economists. He suggested inclusion of Anthropologist to uphold the culture of tribals. He pointed out that the tribals in North-East of India have developed significantly possibly owing to the influence of the arrival of the British then. He contended that the importance of CSR in tribal development was immense which should be given due thrust.

Karnataka State Open University Chairman and Dean (Academic) Jagadish delivered the keynote address. A book in Kannada on tribal development was released on the occasion.

The Institute of Education Trust Managing Trustee Dr. M. Puttaswamy was the guest of honour, College Principal M. Mahadevaiah, HoD of Commerce N.S. Venugopal and author of the book Dr. D.C. Nanjunda of CSEIP were present.

'Waterproofing is vital to protect a building'

Mysuru, Aug.20 (US&MK)- "In the interest of the safety of the building waterproofing should be compulsorily advocated during the construction stage" opined S. Krishnaprasad, President, water-proofing Contractors Association.

He was delivering a talk on 'Necessity of waterproofing during construction of a building' at Institution of Engineers, JLB road recently.

Krishnaprasad contended that even a luxuriously built house would turn useless if seepage of water begins through the ceiling thus necessitating the waterproofing of the roof. He observed that many people have a wrong notion that waterproofing was very expensive which in fact amounted to just 2 to 3 percent of the cost of construction of the building. Continuing Prasad said that many waterproofing chemicals were available in the market and added that only the suitable one for the building should be used. He added that waterproofing also strengthens the building.

IEI Mysuru Chairman M. Chinnaswamy, Honorary Secretary B.V. Ravindranath and others were present. Krishnaprasad was felicitated on the occasion.

Tanker driver's decomposed body retrieved from gorge

Santosh

Hassan, Aug.20 (KS)- The highly decomposed body of the fuel tanker driver has been retrieved from a 300 feet deep gorge near Doddathappale in Sakleshpur taluk yesterday.

The mother and wife of the driver along with relatives had met Deputy Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri recently and had requested her to trace and retrieve the body.

The driver identified as Santosh of Anegola village in K.R. Pet taluk and cleaner Venkatesh of Raichur district were transporting fuel from Mangaluru to Bengaluru, when the tanker fell into a 300 feet deep gorge on Tuesday night due to landslide.

While the rescuers had managed to retrieve the body of Venkatesh the next day, they were unable to retrieve the body of Santosh as the cabin of the tanker was stuck 40 feet deep in slush besides rain hampering the rescue operation.

As the intensity of rain came down considerably, the rescuers managed to climb down the 300 feet deep gorge and retrieved the body of Santosh, which was in a highly decomposed state.

Though rain has receded in Sakleshpur and surrounding places, there were reports of landslides at several places yesterday following which excavators were pressed into service to clear roadblocks and mounds of mud.

WORD OF THE DAY

Bindle stiff

Pronunciation: BIN-dul-stiff
Meaning: Hobo; especially : one who carries his clothes or bedding in a bundle.

Origin: In the argot of tramps and hoboes, a roll of clothes and bedding was called a bindle, a word that probably originated as an alteration of the more familiar bundle. Stiff itself can mean "hobo" or "migrant worker," meanings it took on in the late 19th century. About the same time, any tramp or hobo who habitually carried such a pack was known as a bindle stiff. In Australia, a pack-carrying hobo might be called a swag-man.
Example: The homeless in homeless court are a different breed from the run-of-the-mill bindle stiff.

THE ODD WORD

Jimjams

Loose-fitting nightclothes worn for sleeping, have a jacket top and trousers ; Extreme nervousness.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

For a song

Meaning: Very cheaply, for little money, especially for less than something is worth.
Origin: It started when songs didn't cost anything, at least not to sing. William Shakespeare used it in his play All's Well That Ends Well in 1601. The saying seems to have started off as 'All this for a song' and is the alleged angry response by Burleigh to Queen Elizabeth I when she instructed him to pay Edmund Spenser £100 for a performance of his "The Faerie Queen". Street entertainers of all kinds were commonplace in Elizabethan England; singers would perform in public, and if anybody liked the song they would throw, performer a penny or two. Not much, because singing was a very widespread accomplishment at the time (so much so, that barber's shops would keep a lute for the use of patrons who wanted to sing a few dumps or madrigals while waiting for their haircut). Thus, singing a song was thought of as something which anyone could do, which took no great effort, and was worth very little in the way of reward.

Example: She bought the bed for a song at an auction.

QUOTE BOX

Our aim may be as high as the endless sky, but we should have a resolve in our minds to walk ahead, hand-in-hand, for victory will be ours.

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
